Afraid to Die.

"I do not wish to die," said a little girl six years of age, as her head was pillow'd for the night. This she said to herself, for she did not wish her mother to hear her. Her kind mother had just bid her good night, and closed the door. Oh! how that little heart beat with the thought of death. She knew that God was in the room, and saw the tears running down her blooming cheeks.

She wiped away the tears with her little hand, and closely hugged the pillow to sleep. The fast flowing tears would open those little lids; she could not sleep because she was a sinner. Lizzy was afraid that God would come with the angel of death that night, and take her soul, and cast it down to hell. This was a dreadful thought to her, (and so it would be to any little girl). She said to herself, "perhaps God will save me from dying," with this thought she fell fast asleep.

When she awoke in the morning, she thought of her feelings the night before—All at once her blue eyes sparkled, when she remembered her dream. It was a beautiful one. In her dream she saw her Savior coming toward the house. He had a white robe on, a golden crown on His head, and around the crown a dazzling light. He looked so beautiful, Lizzy was pleased with Him. She was willing to have Him live with her. And He has been her friend ever since.

My little readers are you afraid to die? The old must die, the young may die. Have you given your heart to Christ?

If you have not I know you are afraid to die, as Lizzy was. Christ says: "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Before you retire this night, kneel down by your bed, and ask God to forgive all your sins, and make you His child. He took little children up in His arms and blessed them when He was upon earth. I know He will bless you, if you ask him with a right heart. Then you will not be afraid to die.—Band of Hope Review.

Ripley Female College.

We are happy to announce the reception of a prospectus of this institution. The plan of the institution is very comprehensive, including a complete education for females, from the rudiments of the English language to the highest departments of literature and fine arts. The president, Rev. John Newcomb, D. D., is an eminent teacher, for ten years professor of Latin and literature in Union College. The Vice President, Rev. S. A. Knapp, is also an experienced and distinguished educator.

The Institution is intended to be much in advance of any in this country for female education. The location, the grounds, the furniture, the apparatus, and in short everything pertaining to it is of the best style. We notice the German system of lectures is to be combined with the usual mode of instruction, text-book and recitation, and that they have secured the services of such eminent professors as Taylor Lewis, L. L. D., Wm. M. Gillespie, L. L. D., James Strong, S. T. D., &c.

Sustained by capital and talent beyond what has been enlisted in such an enterprise in the United States, and with the liberal and systematic management proposed, the Ripley Female College must take a high rank among the great educational institutions of this country. Considering the advantages afforded the charges for board and tuition—two hundred dollars per annum—seem to us very reasonable, and we would advise our readers who have daughters to educate to examine the claims of this new institution.—Troy Times.
